DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-10 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 3 of U.S. Patent No. 7,251,461, Shoji et al. in view of Rudrapatna (US 2002/0132600).

Claim 3 of patent '461 teaches a self heterodyne wireless diversity communication system comprising a wireless millimeter wave band transmitter and receiver. The receiver is essentially claimed in the application where the application claims also claims spatial or polarization diversity of the plurality of receiving circuits, each including a small receiving antenna. It is the arrangement of the antennas that provide the diversity of the receiver.

Rudrapatna teaches a structure for multiple antenna configurations based on an antenna array comprising at least two groups of antenna pairs where each pair is orthogonally polarized that are selected to operate in either a beam forming/steering mode, a MIMO mode or diversity mode, figures 1 and 2, paragraphs 0015-0017 and Abstract.

Since claim 3 of patent '461 indicates a receiver intended for diversity communication, it would have been obvious to realize an antenna configuration for the receiver of patent '461 as suggested by Rudrapatna for a selected antenna array to support diversity communication.

Conclusion

Reference the PTO-892 form for the prior art made of record and not relied upon but considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
